You see him walking down the hall, (what do you mean who? Don't ask me who. You know who I'm talking about!) and all the sudden your mind begins to move at a whirlwind speed! Will this be the day that he finally notices you! How long has it been since you have wanted him to see you? How long have you waited to get his attention? And still, if you do get it, how far will you go to gain his affection? How much do you really need him? Maybe it has been the same guy for months or years even. Or maybe it is a different guy every week. You can't seem to help yourself with these feelings. It is a longing in your heart that you can't describe - the need to be noticed and the need to be recognized and loved. It is as if you cannot be complete without him. And he doesn't even realize everything he is to you. You desire and you want...you push yourself further every time. This is just an example of the violent craving that Dannah addresses in her book, Get Lost, to be released on April 2nd. Not only does she talk about the craving, but she also talks about the cure. Included in this book Dannah walks you through a 10 day "love feast" and finally the fulfillment. This is a book about God and guys and how we can sometimes get them mixed up."Discover how to get so lost in God that a guy has to seek Him to find you."Love can be a complex word. We love our family, we love our friends, we love our food? The English language by far is lacking in the area of what love really is. Dannah goes through scripture and talks about the Hebrew and Greek words for love and what they mean. In example, Hesed is the Hebrew form of love to describe the God kind of love for us. In the Greek, this love is called agape.
